The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the LORD HYDE PACKET, arrived at New-York, from Falmouth, we have the following advices, viz.

VIENNA, November 2.

WHEN the Ruſſian Miniſter was ſent to the Caſtle of the Seven Towers, an officer of the Grand Seignor told him, that he would not be releaſed till ſuch time as the Biſhop of Cracow, and ſome other Grandees of Poland, detained in Ruſſia, were ſet at liberty.

Nov. 5. The Court having received intelligence, that a body of Ruſſian troops had purſued a party of the Confederates into the territory of Hungary, where ſome of them were ſlain, Prince de Kaunitz ſent for Prince Gallitzin, the Ruſſian Ambaſſador here, and complained to him of it, in the name of our Sovereigns, enjoining him to write to the Empreſs of Ruſſia concerning it, in order that ſhe may give immediate ſatisfaction for this violation of territory.

Warſaw, Nov. 7. Prince Martin Lubomirſki, after having with his adherents committed great exceſſes in the mountains of Hungary, has found means to get a manifeſto poſted up againſt ſeveral churches at Cracow, inviting the nation to a general revolt, and aſſuring them of the aſſiſtance and protection of the Porte, in virtue of a treaty, which he pretends to have concluded for that purpoſe. General Apraxin has cauſed the manifeſto to be pulled down, and has ſent it hither to the Ruſſian Ambaſſador.

Venice, Oct. 15. We have received advice, that the Baſhaw of Boſnia has been obliged to abandon the firſt poſts which he took from the Montenegrins, and encamp in the plain at the foot of the mountains. He has recalled the officers he had ſent to Cattaro. Several barks are armed to guard the gulph of Cattaro, and all the neighbouring coaſt, to prevent the landing of any ſuccours which the Montenegrins might receive by ſea.

Warſaw, Nov. 9. Although the Turks continue their preparations of war, no act of hoſtility hath hitherto been committed on their part; but the inhabitants of Moldavia and Wallachia ſuffer much, on account of the little diſcipline among the troops which are in thoſe two provinces.

Warſaw, Nov. 9. Military preparations are carrying on in Turkey with great vigour. Troops are already aſſembled on the ſide of Bulgaria; and a body of 40,000 men are encamped on the frontiers, between Choczim, Bender, and Oczakow.

The Ruſſian troops lately, to the number of 14 battalions, and 30 ſquadrons, have taken (a few garriſons excepted) proviſional quarters in the environs of Moldavia and Wallachia. The ſeditious peaſants of the Ukraine, having again aſſembled in troops in ſome places, have reduced to aſhes a town ſeven miles diſtant from Haman, and put the inhabitants of the place to the ſword.

Venice, Nov. 2. We have juſt received advice that the Chevalier Emo, Admiral of this Republic, having arrived at Tunis with ſome ſhips of his ſquadron on the 11th of laſt month, had the next day an audience of the Bey, and preſented to him, on the part of the Senate, a ring ſet with brilliants, valued at 1500 ſequins; but this preſent was received with indifference.

From the Banks of the Danube, Nov. 14. The Porte being deſirous to put an end to a war, which could not but be very burthenſome on all accounts, and eſpecially under the preſent circumſtances, has concluded a peace with the Montenegrins, which ſecures to the latter the country they inhabit, as vaſſals to the Grand Seignor. By this means the Ottoman army quits the Montenero, and the Baſhaw which commands it, is ordered to ſend part of his troops to the general rendezvous, and the remainder will ſtay upon the frontiers, to watch the motions of the Ruſſians.

They write from Conſtantinople, that ſince the 8th inſt. the government had diſpatched upwards of 300 letters to different places in the empire, in order to get every thing ready for aſſembling an army next Spring at Adrianople, on the day of the feaſt of Bada. It is aſſured, that the day after M. Obreſkoff was arreſted, the Engliſh Ambaſſador preſented a memorial to the Porte, ſetting forth, that the children of that Miniſter being without protection, had been ſent to their grandmother, who was an Engliſh lady, and that he hoped the ſublime Porte would not diſapprove of this ſtep.

His Excellency likewiſe propoſed, that on account of M. Obreſkoff's ill ſtate of health, the Grand Seignor ſhould permit him to be confined in his Hotel, inſtead of the Caſtle of Seven Towers, which the Pruſſian Miniſter alſo applied for, but it doth not appear that they have ſucceeded.

Letters from Warſaw adviſe, that Prince Radzivil has been arreſted by the Ruſſians; that the Empreſs of Ruſſia has ſent 40,000 ducats to the King of Poland, and that two new corps of Ruſſian troops are in full march, one to enter Poland, and the other to go upon the frontiers, in order to watch the Ottoman army.

From the Confines of Italy Nov. 10. The preſent ſituation of affairs in Corſica appears to influence the tranquility of the Republick of Genoa: There is a talk of great diſputes having ariſen in the Senate, many members of which, it is ſaid, highly diſapprove the late tranſaction concerning that iſle.

Some letters from Ferrara aſſure us, that the Venetians and the Turks having made diſpoſitions for attacking in concert the rebels in Dalmatia; in conſequence thereof the Turks began the attack, but with ſuch precipitation that the Venetians had not time to ſecond them; on which account the rebels beat the Turks, whoſe loſs was very conſiderable.

From the Banks of the Danube, Nov. 15. The Ruſſians have left a corps near Warſaw, to cover their royal reſidence, and are going to form an army of all their other troops, excepting a few detachments, deſtined to give chace to the Confederates.

The Confederates of Barr have juſt publiſhed a new manifeſto, wherein they declare the election of the King illegal; and have thereby put the finiſhing ſtroke to their ingratitude towards a Prince, whoſe virtues are not only acknowledged by all the world, but who has at the ſame time endeavoured to revive, by ſalutary inſtitutions, thoſe happy times when Poland, without the aſſiſtance of foreigners, knew how to give law to all thoſe who dared to provoke her.

Warſaw, Nov. 16. Several letters from the frontiers next Turkey adviſe, that the Tartars, that had paſſed the Nieſter with the Confederates of Barr, have turned back again, in order to go into winter quarters.

Ploczko, Nov. 12. They write from Choczym, that orders had been publiſhed there on the part of the Grand Seignor, for all the inhabitants to take arms againſt the Ruſſians and their adherents. Theſe advices add, that 10,000 freſh troops were arrived there, and more expected; that on the 17th a body of Confederates paſſed the Nieſter, and plundered a ſmall town near that river, which the Baſhaw, upon repreſentations being made to him, declared to be by his orders, and expreſſed himſelf in a manner very different from what he had done heretofore.

Venice, Oct. 29. The Montenegrins are not the only people who give diſturbance to the Porte. A large body of men are in arms in Lower Albany, and great numbers of Greeks have oppoſed the Turkiſh dominion in the Morea. Theſe inſurgents will, no doubt, create a diverſion in favour of the Ruſſians.

Nov. 5. According to the laſt letters from Cattaro, of the 31ſt of laſt month, the Adventurer, Stephano Piccolo, has made his appearance again, and his partiſans are more numerous, and more attached to him than ever.

From the Confines of Poland, Nov. 22. The lateſt advices from Conſtantinople import, that the Ruſſian Miniſters were ſtill detained in the Caſtle of Seven Towers. However, ſince the event that has happened to the new Grand Vizir, it ſeems that the warlike preparations rather ſlacken. But they are much afraid of the populace, who cry aloud for war; and the fermentation is ſo great, that unleſs their deſires are complied with, the Miniſtry, and even the Grand Seignor himſelf, may not be ſafe. Ruſſia, on her ſide, is marching two conſiderable armies, one into Poland, and the other on the ſide of Bender.

Offen, in Hungary, Nov. 14. They write from the frontiers of Turkey, that the Grand Seignor had notified by a manifeſto, that he looked, upon as illegal all the concluſions paſſed in the Dyet of Poland, from the time of the King's election to the throne; and that his Highneſs inſiſted that the inhabitants of the Republic be re-eſtabliſhed in the enjoyment of their primitive rights and liberties.

A letter from Poland aſſures, that the Empreſs of Ruſſia ſeems diſpoſed to ſpare neither troops nor money; and that 80,000 men are to penetrate into the Ottoman empire, before the Grand Seignor is able to aſſemble his forces.

Warſaw, Nov. 19. The melancholy ſituation to which moſt of the Provinces of this kingdom are reduced by the inſurrection of ſo many thouſand Confederates, repreſents a proſpect ſhocking to humanity. Indeed, Lithuania and Little Poland begin to enjoy ſome repoſe, which perhaps will be but of ſhort duration; but in Great Poland all manner of exceſſes are committed, though the Ruſſians do all they can to prevent it. The families of the Diſſidents, who find an opportunity to retire with ſafety into other countries, do not fail to embrace it, ſo that depopulation is added to the other evils we now ſuffer.

It is aſſured, that if the Turks attack the Ruſſian troops in this kingdom, Prince Repnin will have the command in chief of a body of troops, and Baron de Saldern will ſucceed him as Miniſter from the Empreſs of Ruſſia.

Warſaw, Nov. 23. According to advices from Kaminieck, the Confederates of Barr, ſupported by ſome thouſands of Tartars, have paſſed the Nieſter a ſecond time, and committed great exceſſes.

Glaſgow, Nov. 24. A couple were married here lately, the huſband to his fifth wife, and the wife to her ſixth huſband; their joy was of ſhort continuance, for the man died in eight days.

LONDON.

Nov. 22. The Harriot, Wardman, from Virginia to Aberdeen, is loſt in the Orkneys, and all the crew periſhed.

Some letters from Leghorn ſay, that General Paoli has publiſhed a new manifeſto lately, in which he mentions the conduct of France with reſpect to him with much manly reſentment, and juſt ſeverity.

The 10,000 l. prize, which was drawn on Saturday, is ſaid to be the property of Mr. Brown, a Packer at St. Helen's.

Nov. 24. The news of the French ſhips from Bengal, loaded with ſalt-petre, gives great apprehenſions to thinking people. They make great quantities of that commodity in France, and more than is neceſſary for their conſumption in time of peace; yet we ſee that they are not only buying, and ſtriving to monopolize the ſalt-petre in Europe, but they have found a way to be ſupplied from Bengal alſo. What can this mean? Does it not ſhew a ſteady purpoſe of war? Nor is this a new taken up deſign, but a deliberate and concerted meaſure, as there muſt a length of time have paſſed from the ſending for and arrival of ſalt-petre from Bengal.

The Hon. Miſs Pitt, daughter to the Earl of Chatham, is remarkable for her great knowledge of antient hiſtory, particularly of thoſe ages which produced a Solon, Lycurgus, Livy, the elder and younger Pliny, and moſt of the Sages, who flouriſhed in the Spartan, Grecian, and Roman commonwealths, which, 'tis ſaid, ſhe reads in their originals before her father, and once in a month preſents him, in writing, her remarks on the characters there deſcribed, with a compariſon on the writings and characters of the preſent age.

Yeſterday morning the remains of the late Duke of Newcaſtle were carried from his houſe in Lincoln's-Inn-fields, in order to be interred in the family vault at Laughton in Suſſex, in the following order: 1. The two Porters, mounted on milk-white horſes, leading the van. 2. Eight of his Grace's domeſticks in mourning cloaks, mounted on grey horſes. 3. A Gentleman on horſeback, uncovered, bearing a ducal coronet richly gilt, laid on a crimſon velvet cuſhion with gold taſſals, two men with one hand on the horſe walking on each ſide. 4. The corpſe, in a hearſe drawn by ſix horſes. 5. Four mourning coaches, drawn by four horſes each, in which were his Grace's principal Gentlemen. 6. A Gentleman, followed by ſix livery ſervants in mourning cloaks, all on horſeback, cloſed the proceſſion.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, dated Nov. 11.

"The King of Denmark went on Tueſday laſt to ſee the Academy of Painting, and on Wedneſday he viſited the Porcelaine Manufactory at Seve, where M. Burtin, Miniſter of ſtate, received him. He ſaw on his arrival in one of the rooms a buſt of the King, which he took hold of, ſaying, that without doubt it was deſtined for him, and that at all events he would take it, never to part with it more. He ſtaid there upwards of three hours, examining the whole works; and every thing that ſeemed to pleaſe, was ſent to his apartments. It is with much pain we reflect, that this Monarch's departure is fixed for the 6th of next month."

A letter from Genoa, dated Oct. 22, ſays, "We learn from Toulon, that 150 Corſicans, whom the French had made priſoners, and who were confined in the goals of that town, have made their eſcape, and taken refuge in Savoy."

A letter from Plockzo, dated Oct. 29, ſays, "The laſt advices from Podolia inform us, that a body of Tartars, joined with the Confederates of Barr, after paſſing the Nieſter, had entered Poland, but not having committed any act of hoſtility there, Count Branicki judged it improper to attack theſe Tartars, on account of the perpetual peace which ſubſiſts between the Republic and the Ottoman Porte, and he ſuffered them to paſs the river quietly."

It is reported that one of his Majeſty's ſhips, together with a tender, are to be ſent out early in the ſpring to proſecute the diſcovery of a north-weſt paſſage.

Nov. 26. Letters from Rome adviſe, that the Pope had remitted to the Miniſters of the Houſe of Bourbon, through the hands of Cardinal Negroni, a paper, wherein the Holy Father proteſts, "That after having ſupplicated the aſſiſtance of heaven, and maturely and ſeriouſly reflected on the affair of Parma, he found that his conſcience would not permit him to revoke the brief which he had addreſſed to the Infant Duke, nor to acknowledge that Prince as independent Sovereign of Parma."

A certain Agent to a powerful Monarch on the Continent, ſome time ſince hinted at in the papers, has ſucceeded in his commiſſion much to his ſatisfaction, and is preparing to ſet off for Harwich, in his way home again, having ordered in his bills, and paid and diſcharged his ſervants and attendants yeſterday. 'Tis ſaid likewiſe he will take his leave to-morrow of a certain Great Man in Kent, having ſeveral times during his reſidence here viſited him on material and intereſting affairs.

A certain perſon having lately loſt in one evening at Bath, all which the comedy of the Devil on Two Sticks had produced, gave occaſion to a very pious old lady there to ſay, "What had been got over the Devil's back, had been loſt under his belly."

A ſubſcription among many Ladies and Gentlemen of rank, for Paoli, is ſecretly carrying on, in imitation of the Nobles benefaction of 2000 l. each, being ſent to that Chief laſt Summer, by his Grace the Duke of Devonſhire, Lord Algernon Piercy, and Sir Watkin Williams Wynn, while they were met together at Florence; by which ſeaſonable ſupply, he was enabled to make that vigorous ſtand in defence of Liberty.

It is ſaid, with ſome degree of certainty, that Mr. Wilkes, and the Gentleman he has charged as being culpable in procuring information againſt him, will both be heard, face to face, in a few days; the one to ſupport his allegations, and the other to defend himſelf.

This morning his Excellency Count du Chatalet Lomont had a long conference with the Earl of Rochfort, on the ſubject of diſpatches received yeſterday from the Court of Verſailles.

LONDON, November 26.

Letters from Peterſburgh, of the 27th ult. ſay, "Notwithſtanding the warlike preparations and menaces of the Turks, the Empreſs, deſirous of fulfilling her engagements, is determined not to withdraw her troops from Poland, till after the troubles which prevailed there are entirely appeaſed."

A letter from Portoferraio mentions, that a large veſſel belonging to Baſtia, laden with oxen and corn for the French troops in Corſica, was driven in the night of the 20th of October againſt the rocks of Marignoli. The crew were ſaved; many of the oxen were loſt; and the corn is ſpoilt by the water.

Letters from Florence, of the 29th ult. aſſure us, that 100 perſons left their lives by the earthquake in the night of the 19th ult. and that the great bridge, which ſeparates St. Sophia from the States of the Pope, and coſt upwards of 30,000 crowns, hath been ſplit in the middle, in different places, its whole length.

Yeſterday ſome diſpatches, ſaid to be of importance, were received at the Secretary of State's Office, from his Excellency General Gage, Commander in Chief of his Majeſty's Forces in North-America.

Nov. 29. They write from Warſaw, that the major part of the Nobleſſe of Great Poland are confederated, and commit in that Province the moſt horrible diſorders.

The French never had any great notion of Corſica (as it is ſaid) till the magazines of timber granted by James the II. from Ireland began to fail, which has only been within theſe few years. Such was the political uſe they made of their power while that bigot reigned here: Such has been the uſe they already have made of Corſica.

Extract of a letter from Vellouſe, in the Eaſt-Indies, May 7.

"Colonel Smith has at length taken Kiſnagurry, which, after a blockade of four months, was obliged to ſurrender. It is ſtrongly ſituated upon the ſummit of a high rock, almoſt inacceſſible; about 6 months ago we attempted to ſtorm it, but were repulſed with the loſs of 40 of our beſt troops. I am at preſent in fort Vellouſe, belonging to the Nabob of Arcott, but garriſoned by the Company's ſoldiers. It is at the diſtance of about 100 miles from Madraſs, every way environed with hills, on each of which is a fortreſs; but this renders our ſituation very unhealthy."

A letter from a gentleman at Bombay, to his brother in London, mentions, "That on the 13th of January a powder magazine, within 15 yards of his houſe, was blown up by the premeditated malice of one Hart, a Quarter-maſter Serjeant of Artillery, who being puniſhed the ſame morning for miſbehaviour, took this deſperate and diabolical ſtep to deſtroy himſelf, and be revenged on the public. There were about 38 barrels of powder contained in the magazine, which in an inſtant levelled many houſes to the ground. There were about 30 perſons killed, and 60 wounded; among them was the Lady of the Writer of the letter.

Dec. 1. A very important affair, lately received, is ſoon to be agitated.

A perſon by a deſigned miſtake, perhaps, called the projected revolution in the miniſtry, an evolution.

A letter from Vienna, dated November 12, ſays, "General Laudon is juſt arrived here from Bohemia, having been ſent for by the Emperor, who is going to charge that General with an important commiſſion."

By the laſt letters from Peterſburgh an account is received, that the Empreſs of Ruſſia had lately been inoculated under the direction of Dr. Dimſdale, an Engliſh phyſician: They add, that her Majeſty was perfectly recovered, and that, during the whole time of inoculation, ſhe was not confined one day to her chamber. We think this ought to be told, to the honour of the Empreſs, that in a country, where the practice of inoculation was unknown, the Empreſs ſuffered the firſt experiment to be made upon herſelf: A noble inſtance of her Majeſty's great reſolution and firmneſs of mind, as well as an uncommon attention to the welfare of her people.

Some letters from Genoa mention, that it was currently reported, that General Paoli had been offered ſome advantageous terms of peace on the part of France; one article of which is, that the Corſicans ſhall be acknowledged an independent nation by his Moſt Chriſtian Majeſty.

They write from Toulon, that ſhould General Paoli accept the propoſitions of peace lately offered, ſeveral ſhips of war will be immediately put on the ſtocks at Baſtia, &c. for the uſe of France.

Letters from Corſica adviſe, that the State Priſoners confined at Corte found means lately to ſeize the arms of the guards ſet over them; but ſome other troops running to their aſſiſtance, a great number of ſhot were exchanged on both ſides: Some of the priſoners were ſlain, others wounded, and the reſt more ſtrongly ſecured than ever in the priſons from whence they had eſcaped.

By letters from Breſt we have advice, that the Court had given orders for ſome new fortifications to be forthwith erected on the Iſlands of Rhee, Oleron, and Belleiſle.

This morning his Excellency Count de Malzahn, the Pruſſian Ambaſſador, had a long conference with the Earl of Rochfort, ſaid to be on the ſubject of ſome important diſpatches from the Court of Berlin.

Dec. 3. It is reported that L--d R----- has declared his intention of reſigning the poſt he now enjoys; but who is to ſucceed him is not at preſent determined. The cauſe aſſigned for this act, is ſaid to take riſe from his L--d---p's diſguſt at ſome meaſures lately purſued.

The Great People were never more buſy than at preſent; for while numbers are engaged in making a coalition, in order to form a new Miniſtry, others are as aſſiduous in conſulting on meaſures to counteract their deſign, and ſupport the Uti poſſidetis.

By accounts lately received from Paris, we learn, that the manuſcript papers, lately ſtuck up in divers parts of that metropolis, intimate, that there are Damiens ſtill living, &c.

Farmer Glover, of Hartley, in Eſſex, having married and buried a wife in the year 1762, has had the ſingular fortune to marry and bury one every year ſince; he is now a widower, and declares that he will never engage again in the matrimonial ſtate.

Some gold candleſticks, now in the poſſeſſion of a Nabob, ſacrilegiouſly taken from a capital church at the Manillas, after the capitulation, are, it is ſaid, the cauſe, among other ſuch exceſſes, of the ranſom not being paid.

By the exceſſive quantity of rain that fell on Thurſday night, the road from Stratford to Bow is ſo overflowed with water, that it runs over the axletrees of the carriages, and many of the inhabitants near Stratford-bridge were obliged yeſterday to get out of their one pair of ſtairs windows, the water running through their houſes like a mill-ſtream: The meadows, for many miles round, are overflowed; there is not a hedge or a gate to be ſeen, and the willows which grow by the river ſide only ſhew their heads; the coal-merchants and diſtillers have ſuſtained great damage.

Dec. 6. The Duke of Grafton is elected Chancellor of the Univerſity of Cambridge, in the room of the late Duke of Newcaſtle, without oppoſition.

Thomas Wroughton, Eſq; Reſident at the Court of Portugal, is ſoon expected in England, on account of the diſturbances in that country.

The Marquis de Chauvelin is recalled from Corſica, and the Marquis de Faux is appointed in his room. This latter gentleman, by his ſeverities practiſed at Gottingen laſt war (when Prince Clement of Saxony, who was commander in chief, remonſtrated againſt him to the Court of France) as it is imagined, for theſe reaſons is appointed, as Chauvelin appeared too mild to the French Miniſtry.

Colney-ſtreet, in Hertfordſhire, we are informed, was ſo deeply flooded on Thurſday, that as a waggon belonging to Mr. Woodward, laden with meal, was coming through the town, drawn by four horſes, three of them were drowned.

We learn from Malden, in Eſſex, that the greateſt part of the low lands of that country appear like rivers; and like accounts are alſo received from different parts of Middleſex and Surry.

Extract of a Letter from Stockholm, Nov. 15.

"When the King returned a few days ago from Dretningholm to this city, the Officers of the Cuſtoms ſeized a trunk belonging to his Majeſty, though it was declared to have nothing in it but books and papers. His Majeſty being made acquainted with it, demanded that it ſhould be given up, but to no purpoſe; upon which he laid the affair before his Council, requiring that the trunk ſhould be opened, and in caſe no contraband goods were found therein, that the Officers ſhould be puniſhed for their inſolence; to which the Council immediately conſented."

It is reported that the Rev. Mr. K------l received a douceur of 500*l. as a reward for his ſervices in a memorable tranſaction.*

Some letters from Leghorn mention, that by a ſecret article in the propoſed treaty between France and Corſica, General Paoli is to be inveſted with the dignity of a Marſhal, with a very conſiderable appointment.

We hear that his Majeſty the King of Poland is expected here very ſoon, the increaſe of the troubles in that kingdom having rendered his abode there unſafe, eſpecially as his Majeſty's diſpoſition is known to be averſe to the cruel perſecution of the Diſſidents, which is now carrying on with great ſeverity in moſt parts of that kingdom.

They write from Paris, that the French Aſiatick Company now find themſelves ſtrong enough to revive certain dormant claims on the Dutch, reſpecting both commerce and territory in the Eaſt-Indies.

This morning an expreſs was ſent off from the Secretary of State's Office in Cleveland-Row, St. James's, for Paris.

This day her Majeſty went from her palace to St. James's (it being the firſt time of her going abroad) in order to be preſent at the chriſtening of the young Princeſs, which is to be in the Grand Council Chamber at St. James's Palace, about ſeven this evening. Upon this occaſion the Peers, Peereſſes, Privy Counſellors and their Ladies, Foreign Miniſters and their Ladies, had previous notice to aſſemble in the Queen's Preſence Chamber and Drawing Room in St. James's, between ſix and ſeven. 'Tis ſaid that one of the Princes of Mecklenburgh Strelitz will be a ſponſor.

We hear that the Rev. Mr. WHITEFIELD is about to ſend over, in the Polly and Sally, Captain Brewton, bound to Savannah, in Georgia, ſome carpenters, &c. under the conduct of Mr. Ambroſe Wright, in order to repair the preſent Orphan-houſe Buildings, and make an additional wing for the accommodation of Students in his intended College; which wing, as appears from the plan of the whole, lately publiſhed, is to be near 300 feet in length.

Dec. 8. On Monday Mr. Bingley, Bookſeller, was by writ of Habeas Corpus brought before Sir Joſeph Yates, at his houſe in Bedford-row, where, on entering into two different recognizances for his appearance only, on the firſt day of next term, in the Court of King's Bench, he was diſcharged.

The young Princeſs was baptized by his Grace the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, on Tueſday evening, in the Grand Council Room at St. James's, by the name of Auguſta Sophia. The ſponſors were the eldeſt Prince of Mecklenburgh Strelitz, and the Dutcheſſes of Ancaſter and Northumberland, as proxies for the Queen of Denmark, and the Princeſs of Brunſwick.

Letters from Leghorn adviſe, that the French garriſon of Baſtia, wanting to ſecure their winter quarters and communication with St. Florent, attempted on the 5th of November to ſeize on ſome poſts in the neighbourhood of Bivinco, and the better to divide the enemy's forces, made a feint of marching to Muratto; but that Paoli, after reinforcing the garriſon of Muratto, had obliged the French detachment, which was marching towards Bivinco, to retire with conſiderable loſs.

We hear a Gentlewoman has in her poſſeſſion ſome letters, which, when read, will clear up certain tranſactions concerted againſt a popular Gentleman.

Some letters from Leghorn mention, advice having been received there, that a dangerous conſpiracy among ſome of the Corſican Chiefs againſt Paſchal de Paoli, had luckily been diſcovered by that General, juſt time enough to prevent the execution of a deſign againſt his liberty, and probably againſt his life.

A letter from Paris, dated Nov. 25, ſays, "The Sieur Gatti, the King's conſulting Phyſician, is now inoculating, with the greateſt ſucceſs, the pupils of the Royal Military School, by order of the Duke de Choiſeul, whom nothing eſcapes that can conduce to the good of the State."

Dec. 10. Yeſterday Prince Edward, and the young Princeſs Auguſta Sophia, were carried from the Queen's palace to St. James's; to continue, ſo long as Prince William Henry, and the Princeſs Royal, are under inoculation at the Queen's palace.

"The entertainment given to the King of Denmark by the Prince of Conde at Chantilly, ſurpaſſed every other, except that given by our Sovereign. It was on the 28th inſt. It is computed that there were at leaſt 6000 perſons at it; there were ſuch a prodigious concourſe of the Nobility and Gentry of both ſexes to it, that the ſtreet of St. Dennis, which is longer and wider than Holborn, was filled with their carriages from end to end. The entertainment continued there three days and three nights; during which there was an open houſe kept for all comers without exception. There was likewiſe a moſt grand hunt in the foreſt of Chantilly, by candle light. After a wild boar had been chaced for a good while, he was killed by a Nobleman with a bow and arrow.

It was yeſterday confidently reported, that the Court of Portugal had made ſome extraordinary conceſſions to Mr. Lyttleton, in favour of our Commerce, the particulars of which are ſaid to be tranſmitted home by the laſt mail

There has been this week a very high diſpute between two great men, who have always been hitherto on one ſide; and it is the general opinion, that if it is not adjuſted ſoon, a more univerſal miniſterial revolution will be conſequent of this diſagreement, than has taken place ſince the reign of Queen Ann.

"We hear that his Majeſty's cutter Duke William, was loſt off Scilly in the late ſtormy weather, and all periſhed."

Letters from the New Marche of Bradenburg, dated the 22d of November, mention, that a body of men, who called themſelves Poliſh Confederates, having latley plundered a mill, which ſeveral Diſſidents had made their aſylum, near Callies, on the King of Pruſſia's territories, his Majeſty ſent Lieut. Norman, with 30 Dragoons, in purſuit of them. This officer overtook them in Schalenke, a little town in Poland, immediately attacked them, and after a ſkirmiſh, which laſted half an hour, he made 18 of them priſoners, among whom were 4 officers, and ſent them under an eſcort the 18th inſt. to Friedburg.

By letters from the Hague of the 4th inſt. we learn, that the Prince Stadtholder informed the States General on the 2d, that the Princeſs Royal his conſort was in a ſtate of pregnancy; on which happy event, their High Mightineſſes congratulated his Serene Highneſs.

They write from Leghorn, of the 15th of November, that two of the Senators in the late diſpute about a treaty concluded with France relative to Corſica, fought, and one of them was mortally wounded. The people in general are diſcontented, on account of the war now carrying on againſt Corſica.

On Thurſday morning, a little before eleven o'clock, the Sheriffs opened the Poll for a Knight of the Shire for the County of Middleſex, at Brentford, which was carried on with much tranquility and regularity, till about a quarter after two; at which time it was generally thought that Mr. Serjeant Glynn had polled a greater number than Sir W. B. Proctor, when on a ſudden a hat was thrown up in the air, on which a great riot enſued, when the mob mounted the Huſtings, attempted to ſeize ſome of the Poll books, and entirely put a ſtop to the buſineſs. On this, great numbers of Freeholders were hurt in trying to get away, others came home directly, and the remainder of the day was a ſcene of confuſion. A fellow had lifted up his ſtick to make a blow at Mr. Glynn, which being timely obſerved by one of the Freeholders, a ſtout Gentleman, he knocked the rioter down with the butt end of his whip.

When the mob had cleared the Huſtings on Thurſday, they went into the town of Brentford, and attacked the Caſtle Inn (which was one of the houſes of entertainment for Mr. Glynn's friends) and did conſiderable damage to it. The inhabitants of the town obſerving this miſchief, and beginning to fear their own houſes would next be deſtroyed, a general indignation took place; they ſallied out, attacked the rioters, and drove them out of town; and ſome of the victors afterwards vented their rage upon one or two of the houſes opened for the other candidate.

A number of perſons with cockades, aſſembled about the Angel Inn in a riotous manner, armed with bludgeons, &c. but being expoſtulated with by ſome Gentleman preſent, the greateſt part threw away their ſticks, and their ringleader was taken into cuſtody, and carried to the Angel; while under examination there, ſeveral of his followers came to him, and demanded half a crown each, which they ſaid they were to have, and a guinea to be ſpent amongſt them; whereupon he was ſecured, to be dealt with according to law.

Dec. 13. On Sunday, at the Queen's houſe, an inoculation for the Small-pox was performed on the Princeſs Royal and Prince William, and their Royal Highneſſes were put under the care of Sir Clifton Wintringham, Phyſician to his Majeſty, Sir John Pringle, Phyſician to the Queen, Cæſar Hawkins, Eſq; Serjeant Surgeon, and Pennell Hawkins, Eſq; Surgeon to the Queen.

Letters from Leghorn, dated Nov. 14, mention, that two Engineers, in the ſervice of France, under pretence of being French Deſerters, lately got into Iſola Roſſa in Corſica, and after having been there a few days, obtained an interview with the Commandant, to whom they declared their real character, and offered him 1000 louiſdores to deliver up the fortreſs to the French troops at a certain time, which he agreed to do: But Paoli having ſome intelligence of this plot, ſuddenly arrived at the head of 700 men, and cauſed the Commandant of Iſola Roſſa to be arreſted, with the two Engineers, and ſome other perſons. The Engineers have ſince made a full confeſſion, and all the parties concerned have been ſeized except two.

Letters from Poland adviſe, that Prince Radzivil, formerly Marſhal of the General Confederacy, who has been miſſing ſome time, appears now to have undergone the ſame fate with the Biſhops of Cracovia and Cujavia, &c.

On Saturday an inhabitant of Adz-Court, White-ſtreet, in the Borough, had ſome words with his wife; upon which ſhe went out of the houſe, and he, in the mean time, wrote with chalk, upon the floor, "Through my bad wife, I have loſt my life;" and immediately hanged himſelf.

Yeſterday a chapter of the moſt Noble Order of the Garter was held at St. James's, at which his Majeſty preſided; and their Royal Highneſſes the Dukes of Glouceſter, Cumberland, &c. were preſent, when his Majeſty was pleaſed to inveſt his Grace the Duke of Marlborough with the Enſigns of that Order.

Her Majeſty, and a great number of Ladies of the firſt diſtinction, were at St. James's, to ſee the above ceremony.

The laſt letters received at Vienna from Conſtantinople, of the 2d ult. ſay, "The Turks have already ſent to Choczim and Bender 600 pieces of cannon; that the body of artillery conſiſts of 4000 men, and that the whole army amounts to 300,000, commanded by an old Seraſkier, who has given proofs of his courage and conduct. Theſe letters add, that the Mufti, or Chief of the Law, is dead; and that the Grand Vizir, who was lately depoſed, died likewiſe as he was going to his government. The death of the former puts an end to all our hopes of keeping peace between the Ruſſians and the Turks."

A letter from James-Fort, River Gambia, dated Aug. 28, mentions, that the people of the kingdom of Barrack had, a little time before the above date, taken an Engliſh Schooner, Capt. Marſhall, well manned and armed, with conſiderable property on board, and murdered all the people, except two, who eſcaped by ſwimming. They have alſo taken two Schooners and their cargoes, belonging to Captain Evans; and two boats, laden with goods, belonging to Captain Hodgſon.

A report prevailed this morning, that Great-Britain has been applied to by a certain power on the continent, to intereſt itſelf in the preſent quarrel with the Turks.

They write from Dantzick, that immenſe quantities of ordnance ſtores are now tranſporting from that city, by land and water carriage, for the uſe of the Ruſſian armies.

According to recent letters from Leghorn, General Paoli had declared to the Chiefs of Corſica, that no dependance was to be placed on the profeſſions of France, who with one hand held out amicable treaties, and with the other encouraged private treaſons and aſſaſſinations.

An Affidavit of Atkinſon Buſh, Gent. of Glouceſter-ſtreet, is publiſhed in the daily papers, who depoſes, that he mixed among a large body of men, on Thurſday laſt, at Brentford, drawn up on an eminence near the Huſtings, and declaring himſelf to be neuter, he aſked them, who they ſuppoſed would get the election, they replied, Proctor; for if Glynn gets the advantage, they ſwore, "We will have his blood."

Dec. 15. Monday afternoon a pregnant woman, paſſing near the Hermitage Bridge, Wapping, ſaw a barrel of tar which ſhe longed to taſte, and a man coming by with muffins at the ſame time, ſhe purchaſed ſix, which ſhe dipped in the tar, and devoured with great ſatisfaction.

Yeſterday the poll for the election of a knight of the ſhire for the county of Middleſex was continued at Brentford, purſuant to the laſt adjournment; at the cloſe of which the numbers ſtood as follow:

For Serjeant Glynn - - - -	1542
Sir W. B. Proctor - - -	1278
Majority for Serjeant Glynn	264

The Vox Populi has often been ſtiled Vox Dei, and whatever may be the opinion of contending parties concerning it, in reſpect to the late election for the county of Middleſex, the ſpirit diſplayed on that occaſion by the electors is, at leaſt, truly laudable. To them, and to them alone, it certainly belongs to chooſe their repreſentatives; and without entering into any invidious compariſon of the merits of the two reſpective candidates, we are bound in juſtice to commend the noble ſtruggle of the freeholders, who unawed by power, uninfluenced by favour, ſo gallantly vindicated their own privileges, by chooſing the man they thought proper. May the glorious example ſpread, and Britons, in an affair where their own welfare, and that of all poſterity are ſo nearly concerned, never ſubmit to be dictated to, in their choice of members of Parliament, by any Perſon, HOW GREAT SOEVER!

The whole park of artillery preparing by the Turks for acting againſt the Ruſſians, we are told, amounts to no leſs than 600 pieces, which are to be managed by a corps of 4000 men, and the like number of Camels is collecting for the purpoſes of drawing it.

All the troops in Sileſia, being the beſt regiments in the King of Pruſſia's ſervice, are in full march to join the Ruſſians.

Dec. 17. The Hon. Houſe of Commons which met on Thurſday, ſat till half an hour paſt One o'clock yeſterday Morning.

The populace in general, and the people of Brentford in particular, were very deſirous to chair Mr. Serjeant Glynn, after the Sheriffs had declared his election; but the Serjeant very politely intreated them to decline it, which, after much Solicitation, they complied with.

As an inſtance of the great expence attending the election of a Knight of the ſhire for a county, it is worthy of remark, that the ribbands only for the hats of Mr. Glynn's friends coſt 400l.

Extract of a letter from Florence, Oct. 24.

"I have not ſuffered myſelf to be carried away, as many others have been, by an enthuſiaſtic fever in favour of Corſica; but I have contracted ſuch a friendſhip for the General, that I cannot even deſcribe how much I admire him. He certainly is a great man, who poſſeſſes both ſpirit and eloquence to an amazing degree, has entirely ſacrificed himſelf for his country, and is incapable of betraying it. Do not ſuffer yourſelf to be deceived by thoſe whom either the French, or diſaffected Corſicans, deceive by ſuch calumnies. Whoever would judge of the French in general. from their behaviour in the last actions in Corsica, could indeed not love them. In two words the fact is this: They always advanced by surprise and treachery, endeavouring even to bribe the General's Secretaries; but have been driven back merely by the courage of the people. The people are good, ingenuous, courageous, and act openly. What disadvantages they sustained, arose from the Chiefs, who had more to lose. It is not now easy for the French to get back again to the post, which they were dispossessed of; they must stay for new reinforcements. Their losses have been considerable: One of their Commanders in Chief has been wounded, 87 officers killed, or made prisoners, together with 1800 soldiers. The military chest, hospitals, baggage, tents, cannons, have been lost; and, what is worse, the troops are discouraged in having to fight upon unequal ground with an enemy almost always covered. I wish that this may dissipate every shadow of suspicion about Paoli from those powers, who are the natural friends of the Corsicans, and induce them to assist them powerfully. As from the little knowledge I have of Corsica, which I have almost entirely travelled through, and from some other considerations, I fear that at last nothing will save that country, but an open stand in their favour."

Extract of a private Letter from a Gentleman in London, to his Friend in New-York, dated December 7, 1768.

"I was in the House of Commons, at the Opening of this Session.----The Ministry went largely into American Affairs.---- In that Day's Debate, they shewed a firm Resolution to enforce, without entering into the Matter of Right, which appears to me a disputable Point. I think if the King's Ministers insist upon the Obedience of America, and the Parliament concur in the Measures, that it will be the Interest of America to submit; such a Submission, I am persuaded, will gain them great Advantages and Indulgences in other Respects.----Mr. Wilkes's Cause is to come on before the House on Wednesday next."

We cannot learn by any Letters received by the Packet, that the Parliament had done any Thing in American Affairs, or that any Time was fixed for that Purpose; and indeed it appears that our Friends on the other Side of the Water, have been very circumspect touching Politics in any of their Letters lately received here.

P H I L A D E L P H I A, March 2.

In a Letter from London, dated December 6, it is said, "A Bill will be brought into Parliament, to encourage the Importation of Flour from America at all Times."

And in another of December 7, "We are all in the Dark respecting what the Parliament will do in American Affairs; but a very short Time will now discover it. It is to be hoped your Remonstrance will have a good Effect, for the Philadelphians are held in great Esteem here."

But as the Letters by the Packet, in general, are very silent with respect to American Politics, we are sorry it is not in our Power to give our Readers any Intelligence relating thereto; only we hear, that the Persons in Power in England seemed to soften, with regard to the ill Opinion they had imbibed of the Americans; that their Friends increased; that the discreet Behaviour of the Inhabitants of Boston, gave great Pleasure to their Wellwishers in the Mother Country; and that it was hoped, in the End, all would turn out well.

Captain Potts, from Lisbon, on the 13th of January, in Lat. 29: 40, Long. 59: 20, spoke the Ship Thames, Captain Watts, from Boston for Nevis, 9 Days out;---16th, in Lat. 32: 16, Long. 60: 20, spoke the Schooner Bedford, Captain Ellis, from Cape-Fear for the Grenades, 8 Days out; and on the First of February, in Lat. 37: 53, Long. 69: 40, he spoke the Ship Elizabeth, Captain M'Kinsey, from New-York for Newry, 4 Days out, all well in each Vessel.

Captain Conyngham, from Antigua, on the 13th ult. in Lat. 27: 20, Long. 69: 40, spoke a Ship, Captain Rhea, from New-York for Jamaica, 10 Days out, all well.

Captain Allison, in 6 Weeks from Lisbon, advises, that the Brig Jenny, Captain Hunter, was to sail for New-York in 6 or 8 Days after him, but first to touch at Falmouth. On the 21st ult. in Lat. 36, Long. 72, he spoke the Schooner Industry, Captain Gardiner, from Cape Nichola, for Salem, out 28 Days, who informed him, that Captain Caton, from this Port, was arrived at that Place.

Captain Blewer, from South-Carolina, about two Weeks ago, off of Cape Hatteras, spoke a Brig from St. Christophers for Wilmington, 36 Days out, all well.

Captain Powell, from Lisbon, on the 18th of January, in Lat. 23, Long. 43, spoke a Brig, Captain Hull, from Liverpool for Georgia, out 20 Days; on the 21st of last Month, in Lat. 36: 49, Long. 72, he spoke a Sloop, Captain Harding, from Virginia for Jamaica, out 24 Hours; and the next Day he spoke a Ship from Virginia for Glasgow, all well.

Sunday last the Ship Donegall, Captain Ferguson, arrived here from Belfast, but last from Antigua; who meeting with bad weather on our Coast in December last, was obliged to bear away for that Island.

Captain Mackey, from Dublin, but last from Cork, on the 31st of January, spoke a Schooner off the Capes of Virginia, that had left those Capes that Day, bound to Barbados; Master's Name not known.

From Antigua we learn, that the following Vessels had put in there by Stress of Weather, viz. December 13. The Sloop Polly, Captain Conyers, from South-Carolina for Barbados, being obliged to throw Part of the Cargoe overboard;----22d, The Sloop Two Brothers, Captain Freeman, from Halifax for New-London, Rigging much damaged;----28th, The Sloop Liberty, Captain Emery, from Halifax for Philadelphia, Vessel much damaged;---31st, The Sloop Unity, Captain Winter, from Quebec for Halifax, Sails and Rigging much damaged. The Raven Transport, from Cork for Boston, with 250 Soldiers on board, is put into Nevis, having lost all her Masts.

Nassau Hall, Princeton, February 23, 1769.

IN terms of the advertisement formerly published, the grammar school, at Princetown, was begun precisely on the 7th of November last. The numbers, considering the shortness of the time, have exceeded expectation. The design of this present notice is to inform the public, that, according to my promise to the trustees, I have undertaken the conduct of it; that the young man who teaches it, receives his whole directions from me; and has hitherto given the greatest satisfaction, by fidelity and diligence, in the execution of them. He is furnished with a book of directions, for masters to form their pupils to a thorough knowledge of the Latin language, drawn up by one who was long rector of the public grammar school in Glasgow, the seat of one of the universities in Scotland, and taught it with as great reputation and success as any that ever appeared in that country. He is furnished with a book of classic maps, to point out the places spoken of in any author the scholars may happen to read; and it is particularly recommended to him to study the Roman and Greek antiquities, that he may be able to explain any word that refers to the customs and manners of the ancients, or the constitution of their several states. He is also furnished with a terrestrial globe, that they may be taught geography by occasional exercises for amusement rather than a task. One hour every day is spent in writing and arithmetic; and it is proposed to have a weekly exercise of reading the English authors, with propriety and grace; with remarks on the grammar, and spelling of the English tongue. Every Lord's day evening, since the school began, the scholars have been convened and instructed in the principles of religion. This is done for the sake of those whose parents live at a distance, and will be carefully continued. On the whole, the public may rest assured, that no pains will be spared to make the instruction at this school compleat and accurate, and indeed they have a pretty sure pledge of our fidelity, because the scholars who enter college from this school, must be considered as a sort of standard for the qualifications of those who are to be admitted from other places. It would be a terrible reproach to offer insufficient scholars, brought up within our own walls, and it is expected, and even hoped, that other schoolmasters will, by a laudable emulation, keep us hard and close to our duty. J. WITHERSPOON.
